INTRODUCTION

In 1960 the Arizona Legislature adopted Chapter 119, which provided for junior college districts in the State of Arizona. However, the Arizona Community College System really began when Eastern Arizona College was admitted to the system in 1962 and Phoenix College in 1963. In 1971, the name was changed to "Community College" System.

The Arizona Community College System was established not only to provide educational facilities in localities where students resided but to relieve the load on existing state universities created by the increasing demand for higher educational opportunities.

A State Board of Directors was appointed to oversee the system. This State Board now consists of 15 members appointed by the Governor for seven-year terms. There are also three other members on the Board -- a representative of the Board of Regents, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the director of the Division of Vocational Education.

STATEMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

The philosophy of the Arizona community college system is a reflection of the purpose of a free democratic society: government of, by and for the people. This can best be achieved by an educated populace so that all may exercise intelligently and morally the rights, privileges and duties of self-government. This entails the affirmation that each individual has worth and dignity, must be afforded an opportunity to develop skills and talents, and must share the responsibilities of providing educational services with the community.

Further, the philosophy recognizes that education is a vital life-long process that -- like the society to which it responds -- is never static nor completely realized. Education in a democratic society aims to equip all members with the knowledge and techniques necessary for coping with the economic, social and political dynamics affecting not only the individual but also the community.

It is therefore appropriate that the individual, the community and the state should share the financing and governance of the community college system. At the district level, fiscal and educational policy can be determined by local needs. At the state level, it is imperative to establish standards, and to assess and coordinate needs and services in the best interest of the state.

Because the communities in Arizona differ widely in demographic, economic, and geographical characteristics, the community colleges of Arizona must be permitted relative autonomy and a variety of curricula. But each community college must be committed to the following objectives:

1. To offer the first two years of baccalaureate parallel or preprofessional courses of the highest quality, so that students enrolled in transfer programs may complete study for the baccalaureate in four-year colleges and universities.

2. To provide occupational programs in technical, vocational, and paraprofessional fields leading to an associate degree or a certificate, and to provide retraining and upgrading of skills in these fields, so that students enrolled in occupational programs are qualified to meet current needs of the labor market.

3. To provide appropriate general education for all citizens, so that they may perform their personal and professional roles more effectively and exercise their obligations and privileges as citizens more intelligently.

4. To offer programs in continuing education for those who wish to improve professional skills, acquire new ones, or expand their fields of knowledge and general interest.

5. To provide sound academic and occupational counseling, including job placement services, so that students may learn to define their goals clearly and pursue them realistically.

6. To provide cultural and community service programs for the enrichment of the community, and to encourage the use of community college facilities and services by all citizens of the community for educational and cultural purposes.

Finally, a democratic society prizes and values individual differences. The role of the community college is to encourage men and women of all ages to develop their skills and talents differently, each according to abilities and interests, so that collectively they contribute to the continuum of democracy.

Vocational Education

Vocational education (preparation for occupations which require less than a bachelor's degree) continues to be an integral and significant part of Arizona's community college programs. This includes but is not necessarily limited to programs in entry-level training for persons beyond the traditional secondary-school age, advanced technical training, retraining for individuals making career changes, and upgrading for those who need to "catch up" with advances in their chosen fields. The colleges readily accept the role of serving as major manpower training agencies and providing support for the state's economic development.

The following statistics were obtained from the Department of Education, Division of Vocational Education. THESE FIGURES ARE COMPILED ACCORDING TO SPECIFIC FEDERAL REQUIREMENTS AND, THEREFORE, WILL NOT COINCIDE WITH PREVIOUSLY REPORTED ENROLLMENT FIGURES.

During the 1983-84 fiscal year, community colleges in Arizona reported the following number of enrollments in vocational-technical credit courses. This unduplicated count indicates one student counted only once whether enrolled in one or several courses.

Funded Vocational Education Projects

The federal vocational discretionary funds allocated to and administered by the State Community College Board were utilized for program improvement and supportive services via the following projects.

1. Scottsdale Community College, Maricopa County Community College District - $14,796 - Nursing Competencies

   Develop, print, and disseminate a document containing verified competencies for Nursing Assistant, Practical Nurse, and Associate Degree Nurse. The health care industry and nursing service agencies were utilized for statewide verification.

2. Mohave Community College, Mohave Community College District - $20,000 - Displaced Homemakers

   The educational, job-training, and related needs of displaced homemakers in the rural Kingman area were served by this project. A previously developed master plan was implemented.

3. Eastern Arizona College, Graham County Community College District - $10,000 - Articulation in Drafting and Electronics

   A 2+2 articulation concept in Drafting and Electronics was developed and initiated. Emphasis was placed upon a basic core of preparation, including mathematics and science in the 11th and 12th years, and upon vocation skill development at the 13th and 14th years. Participants included Eastern Arizona College and the secondary districts of Fort Thomas, Pima, Safford, and Thatcher.

4. Pima Community College, Pima County Community College District - $9,934 - Articulation in Computer Science

   Pima Community College and supporting secondary schools developed a 2+2 articulated effort which resulted in a coordinated, continuing curriculum; competency development; advanced placement; and a mechanism for continual modification of curriculum.

5. Central Arizona College, Pinal County Community College District - $10,000 - Electronics and Automotive Technology Articulation

   This articulation project involved two program areas and two secondary districts: Electronics with Casa Grande High School and Automotive Technology at San Manuel High School. A document was developed identifying the competencies to be attained at each level and in each course.

6. Eastern Arizona College, Graham County Community College District - $9,280 - Articulation in Business Education/Microcomputers

   This project initiated a 2+2 articulation concept in Business Education with emphasis upon incorporating microcomputers into the curriculum. Participating were Eastern Arizona College and all of the Graham County secondary schools: Fort Thomas, Pima, Safford, and Thatcher.

7. Glendale Community College, Maricopa County Community College District - $4,000 - Articulation in Computer Assisted Design

   Deer Valley Unified High School District and Glendale Community College developed and implemented guidelines which will allow students to progress smoothly through the secondary and community college Computer Assisted Design (CAD) program.

8. Pima Community College, Pima County Community College District - $9,731 - Articulation with a Private-for-Profit School

   Using a previously developed comprehensive articulation model in Office Education, Pima Community College implemented a program with two proprietary schools.

9. Glendale Community College, Maricopa County Community College District - $5,000 - Demonstration Model in Clerical Training

   This project provided a demonstration model which will improve the quality of and awareness about the short-term, open-entry/open-exit Clerical Training Program at Glendale Community College which serves a variety of students, including JTPA clients.

10. Central Arizona College, Pinal County Community College District - $5,000 - Dietetic Education Training Program Demonstration

    The Central Arizona College Dietetic program demonstrated the use of its transportable modules and individualized approach in serving almost 200 dietetic technicians throughout the entire state.

11. Pima Community College, Pima County Community College District - $7,479 - Senior Business Achievement

    This project provided a Senior Business Achievement program for older adults. Using a modification of the Junior Achievement format for organizing a company, the participants experienced cottage industry management while earning profits in their retirement.

12. Maricopa County Community College District - $50,000 - Statewide Coordination of County Vocational Planning

    This project provided statewide coordination, leadership, workshops, and technical assistance to accomplish the county planning and coordination activities enumerated in Senate Bill 1106 for Vocational Education in Arizona.

Skill Centers

Another dimension of postsecondary education may be experienced at one of Arizona's Skill Centers. There are three centers, located in Maricopa, Pima and Pinal counties. These centers are unique operations that have existed in Arizona since 1962. Their purpose is to train unemployed and underemployed persons for entry or re-entry into the labor market. Even though each Skill Center is responsible to the local community college district, they maintain a great degree of autonomy.

Skill Centers do not require a high school diploma for entry although students are encouraged to take advantage of the tutoring and testing available for a General Education Diploma (GED). In order to be truly responsive to the needs of students, the open-entry/open-exit concept is utilized. Students may enroll on any day of the week, and they receive their certificates of completion the day they are "job-ready." At the Gila River Skill Center in Pinal County, dormitory facilities are available for students, as well as an extensive recreational area.

Listed below are some of the training clusters offered at one or more of Arizona's Skill Centers:

- Air Conditioning
- Auto Body and Painting
- Automotive
- Banking and Finance
- Building Maintenance
- Building Trades
- Cable TV
- Carpentry
- Cashier Sales
- Data Entry
- Electrician Helper
- Electromechnical Assembly
- Electronic Tester

- Electronics Technician
- Food Preparation and Services
- Health Aides
- Hospitality
- Licensed Practical Nurse
